DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The specification has been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of possible minor errors. However, the applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Acknowledges

2. According to the rule USC 1.56 (Duty to disclose information material to patentability), the applicant request to provide the references for consideration.

The rule U.S.C 1.56 as below:

1.56 Duty to disclose information material to patentability.

(a) A patent by its very nature is affected with a public interest. The public interest is best served, and the most effective patent examination occurs when, at the time an application is being examined, the Office is aware of and evaluates the teachings of all information material to patentability. Each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application has a duty of candor and good faith in dealing with the Office, which includes a duty to disclose to the Office all information known to that individual to be material to patentability as defined in this section. The duty to disclose information exists with respect to each pending claim until the claim is cancelled or withdrawn from consideration, or the application becomes abandoned. Information material to the patentability of a claim that is cancelled or withdrawn from consideration need not be submitted if the information is not material to the patentability of any claim remaining under consideration in the application. There is no duty to submit information which is not material to the patentability of any existing claim. The duty to disclose all information known to be material to patentability is deemed to be satisfied if all information known to be material to patentability of any claim issued in a patent was cited by the Office or submitted to the Office in the manner prescribed by §

§ 1.97(b)-(d) and 1.98. However, no patent will be granted on an application in connection with which fraud on the Office was practiced or attempted or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or intentional misconduct. The Office encourages applicants to carefully examine:

(1) Prior art cited in search reports of a foreign patent office in a counterpart application, and

(2) The closest information over which individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application believe any pending claim patentably defines, to make sure that any material information contained therein is disclosed to the Office.

(b) Under this section, information is material to patentability when it is not cumulative to information already of record or being made of record in the application, and

(1) It establishes, by itself or in combination with other information, a prima facie case of unpatentability of a claim; or

(2) It refutes, or is inconsistent with, a position the applicant takes in:

(i) Opposing an argument of unpatentability relied on by the Office, or

(ii) Asserting an argument of patentability.

A prima facie case of unpatentability is established when the information compels a conclusion that a claim is unpatentable under the preponderance of evidence, burden-of-proof standard, giving each term in the claim its broadest reasonable construction consistent with the specification, and before any consideration is given to evidence which may be submitted in an attempt to establish a contrary conclusion of patentability.

(c) Individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application within the meaning of this section are:

(1) Each inventor named in the application;

(2) Each attorney or agent who prepares or prosecutes the application; and

(3) Every other person who is substantively involved in the preparation or prosecution of the application and who is associated with the inventor, with the assignee or with anyone to whom there is an obligation to assign the application.

(d) Individuals other than the attorney, agent or inventor may comply with this section by disclosing information to the attorney, agent, or inventor.

(e) In any continuation-in-part application, the duty under this section includes the duty to disclose to the Office all information known to the person to be material to patentability, as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, which became available between the filing date of the prior application and the national or PCT international filing date of the continuation-in-part application.

(e) added, 65 FR 54604, Sept. 8, 2000, effective Nov. 7, 2000]

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to for the following reasons.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the a light sensor, a voltage detecting circuit and a current monitoring circuit must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35

U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Eckel et al., U.S. patent No. 6,388,399.

Claims 1,4-7,10-20, eckel el al. disclose an intelligent light emitting diode modulate for a traffic signal; comprising: a voltage source (70), said voltage source continuously supplying a voltage to said traffic signal (See column 10, line 23-31); an electronic switch (See column 2, line 17-29); an integrated flasher (See column 3, line 7 showing the light control unit to flash light); at least one light element (See fig. 14); a power supply (338) for powering the at least one light element (See fig. 14); a dimming interface for dimming the at least one light element (See fig. 11); a controller (340) for generating an appropriate command signal based on one or more status signals (see fig. 14), said status signals comprise one or more of the following: light element current, light element voltage, light output (450) (see fig. 18), input current and input voltage and said appropriate command comprise one or more of the following: an on or off command, a dimming command (See column 3, line 32-43), a flashing command, and an emergency disconnection signal; a light sensor (450) for detecting light output (See fig. 18) of the at least one light element; a voltage detecting circuit (62) for the light element voltage (See column 10, line 36-45), and the output voltage or combinations thereof; and a current monitoring circuit (See column 5, line 50-51) for measuring the light element current, the output current, or combinations thereof.

Art Unit: 2821

Claims 2-3, Eckel et al. disclose the light sensor is photocell (See fig. 20), one light element is an LED array (344)(See fig. 14).

Claims 8-9, it is inherent that Eckel et al. disclose an emergency disconnect because on column 10, line 31-35, Eckel et al. disclose a momentary contact switch the external power supply, this providing a reset function.
